The Rural Mediterranean Taste

Jerez and its sherry history

To speak of Jerez de la Frontera is to speak of its sherry wines which have impregnated the whole of its culture, art forms and customs since 1100 BC. We would, therefore, like to offer you a complete guide to the most significant wine tourism resources of the city. You will visit a famous wine cellars of Jerez, taste the best sherry wines and brandies accompanied by gastronomic treats typical of the area. During our visit we will show you around what is probable Europe's largest wine cellar. We will tell you some of the winery's secrets and take a journey through the history, production and ageing of their wines.

After the visit we will then go for lunch in a typical Local Restaurant. Following lunch we will be going to the Cadiz area and more precise to the town of Puerto de Santa Maria, where we will be visiting a superb wine cellar, the famous Bodega Osborne before starting our trip back towards the coast.

Another great excursion that cannot be missed.

Prices for our trip are as follow:

For 2 people € 170

For 3 people € 140

For 4 to 8 people € 125

Please consult prices for larger groups
