

Cooking Holiday Spain

The Rural Mediterranean Taste

Málaga, Tapeo & Vino Málaga...

During the last few years the city of Malaga has undergone a true revolution in catering that has converted it into a top gastronomic destination.

In the traditional cuisine, the "pescaíto frito" (little fried fish) plays an important role and no one can leave the city without having tasted it, as it is just too tempting: just the aroma that emanates from the bars and restaurants that prepare this dish will make your mouth water. Identical effect has the star of the coast, the "barbecued sardines on a stick".

We will start our tour of the city going to Gibralfaro where we will be able to enjoy a magnificent view of the city and its harbour, before starting our Tapas Tour.

During our tour of Malaga we will also practise what is known as "tapeo", a clever formula that allows you to taste just about everything, and not out of gluttony, but, shall we say, out of culinary curiosity. Variety, they say, is the spice of life, so ask away - that's what the "tapeo" are there for, and when you ask for "...one of..." it is almost invariably followed by "...and another of..." You will practice your Spanish in our excursion!

During our visit to the old part of Malaga we will visit 4 different tapas Bars.

The tour price includes the first tapas and drinks.
